| 1.1.5.Cr1a | Choreographers use a variety of sources as inspiration and transform concepts and ideas into movement for artistic expression. Where do choreographers get ideas for dances? | Use a variety of stimuli (e.g., music, sound, text, objects, images, notation, experiences, observed dance, literary forms, natural phenomena, current news) to build dance content | The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. |
| 1.1.5.Cr1b | Choreographers use a variety of sources as inspiration and transform concepts and ideas into movement for artistic expression. Where do choreographers get ideas for dances? | Solve multiple movement problems using the elements of dance to develop dance content | The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement. |
| 1.1.5.Cr2a | The elements of dance, dance structure, and choreographic devices serve as both a foundation and a departure point for choreographers. What influences choice-making in creating choreography? | Select a choreographic device to expand movement possibilities, create patterns and structures and develop a main idea. Use dance terminology to explain movement choices. | The student identifies and demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. |
| 1.1.5.Cr2b | The elements of dance, dance structure, and choreographic devices serve as both a foundation and a departure point for choreographers. What influences choice-making in creating choreography? | Develop a dance study by selecting a specific movement vocabulary to communicate a main idea. Discuss how the dance communicates non-verbally. | The student identifies and demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement |
| 1.1.5.Cr3a | Choreographers analyze, evaluate, refine, and document their work to communicate meaning. How | Revise movement based on peer feedback and self-reflection to improve communication of artistic intent in a dance study. Explain | The student identifies and demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art |

| 1.1.5.Pr4a | Space, time and energy are basic elements of dance. How do dancers work with space, time and energy to communicate artistic expression? | Perform planned and improvised movement sequences, with increasing complexity in the use of space. Establish relationships with other dancers, increasing spatial awareness and design (e.g., diverse pathways, levels, patterns, focus, near / far) | The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement |
| 1.1.5.Pr4b | Space, time and energy are basic elements of dance. How do dancers work with space, time and energy to communicate artistic expression? | Perform planned and improvised movement sequences, with increasing complexity in the use of time / rhythm by accurately transferring rhythmic patterns from the auditory to the kinesthetic and responding immediately to tempo changes | The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement |
| 1.1.5.Pr4c | Space, time and energy are basic elements of dance. How do dancers work with space, time and energy to communicate artistic expression? | Perform planned and improvised movement sequence and dance combinations applying a variety of dynamics and energy (e.g., fast / slow, sharp / smooth, strong / gentle, tight / loose) | The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, |

How is the body used as an instrument for technical and artistic expression? | Apply healthful strategies (e.g., nutrition, injury prevention, emotional health, overall functioning) essential for the dancer | The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement. |
| 1.1.5.Pr5b | The way the body is developed, execution of movement and movement quality vary in different dance styles, genres and traditions. How is the body used as an instrument for technical and artistic expression? | Recall joint actions, articulations and basic anatomical terms (e.g., muscles, bones, tendons, ligaments) as they relate to dance and apply basic kinesthetic principles (e.g., flexion / extension, inward / outward rotation). Track how basic body organs (e.g. Lungs, heart, brain) respond to different intensities of dance movement | The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement. |
| 1.1.5.Pr5c | The way the body is developed, execution of movement and movement quality vary in different dance styles, genres and traditions. How is the body used as an instrument for technical and artistic expression? | Identify body organization. Demonstrate use of elongated spine and engage in release of tension from spine / shoulders | The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement. |
| 1.1.5.Pr5d | The way the body is developed, execution of movement and movement quality vary in different dance styles, genres and traditions. How is the body used as an instrument for technical and artistic expression? | Demonstrate increased flexibility, strength, and endurance using a variety of bases of support (e.g., body shapes, levels, core) | The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement. |

Dance performance is an interaction between performer, production elements, and audience that heightens and amplifies artistic expression. What must a dancer do to prepare the mind and body for artistic expression? How does a dancer heighten artistry in a public performance? | Apply visualization, motor imagery and breath to enhance body mechanics and the quality of a movement skill. | The student understands and demonstrates dance in relation to its historical, cultural and personal origins. This contributes to an appreciation of personal, physical, and emotional uniqueness. It also helps the student to understand the language of dance in daily life. |
| 1.1.5.Pr6b | Dancers use the mind-body connection and develop the body as an instrument for artistry and artistic expression. Dance performance is an interaction between performer, production elements, and audience that heightens and amplifies artistic expression. What must a dancer do to prepare the mind and body for artistic expression? How does a dancer heighten artistry in a public performance? | Rehearse a dance to improve group awareness, unison movement, consistency, and attention to detail | The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement |
