1.1.2.Cr1a	Choreographers use a variety of sources as inspiration and transform concepts and ideas into movement for artistic expression. Where do choreographers get ideas for dances?	Demonstrate movement in response to a variety of sensory stimuli (e.g., music, imagery, objects) and suggest additional sources for movement ideas	The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills.
1.1.2.Cr1b	Choreographers use a variety of sources as inspiration and transform concepts and ideas into movement for artistic expression. Where do choreographers get ideas for dances?	Combine movements using the elements of dance to solve a movement problem	The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement.
1.1.2.Cr2a	The elements of dance, dance structure, and choreographic devices serve as both a foundation and a departure point for choreographers. What influences choice-making in creating choreography?	Create a movement sequence with a beginning, middle and end. Incorporate the use of a choreographic device	The student identifies and demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance.
1.1.2.Cr2b	The elements of dance, dance structure, and choreographic devices serve as both a foundation and a departure point for choreographers. What influences choice-making in creating choreography?	Develop a dance study by selecting a specific movement vocabulary to communicate a main idea. Discuss how the dance communicates nonverbally	The student identifies and demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement
1.1.2.Cr3a	Choreographers analyze, evaluate, refine, and document their work to communicate meaning. How	Explore suggestions and make choices to change movement from guided improvisation and / or short remembered sequences	The student identifies and demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art

1.1.2.Cr3b	Choreographers analyze, evaluate, refine, and document their work to communicate meaning. How do choreographers use self-reflection, feedback from others and documentation to improve the quality of their work?	Document a dance-making experience through drawing, painting, writing, symbols, mapping, collaging, photo sequencing, photo captioning, video captioning, etc.	The student identifies and demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement

1.1.2.Pr4a	Space, time and energy are basic elements of dance. How do dancers work with space, time and energy to communicate artistic expression?	Perform planned and improvised movement sequences, with variations in direction (e.g., forward / backward, up / down, big / small, sideways, right/ left, diagonal), spatial level (e.g., low, middle, high), and spatial pathways (e.g., straight, curved, circular, zigzag), alone and in small groups	The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement
1.1.2.Pr4b	Space, time and energy are basic elements of dance. How do dancers work with space, time and energy to communicate artistic expression?	Perform planned and improvised movement sequences, with variations in tempo, meter, and rhythm, alone and in small groups	The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement
1.1.2.Pr4c	Space, time and energy are basic elements of dance. How do dancers work with space, time and energy to communicate artistic expression?	Demonstrate contrasting dynamics and energy with accuracy (e.g., loose / tight, light/ heavy, sharp / smooth)	The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating,

1.1.2.Pr5a	The way the body is developed, execution of movement and movement quality vary in different dance styles, genres and traditions. How is the body used as an instrument for technical and artistic expression?	Identify personal and general space to share space safely with other dancers. Categorize healthful strategies (e.g., nutrition, injury prevention, emotional health, overall functioning) essential for the dancer.	The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement.
1.1.2.Pr5b	The way the body is developed, execution of movement and movement quality vary in different dance styles, genres and traditions. How is the body used as an instrument for technical and artistic expression?	Identify basic body parts and joints (e.g., limb, bone) and joint actions (e.g., bend, rotate). Examine how basic body organs (e.g., brain, lungs, heart) relate and respond to dance movements	The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement.
1.1.2.Pr5c	The way the body is developed, execution of movement and movement quality vary in different dance styles, genres and traditions. How is the body used as an instrument for technical and artistic expression?	Explore the use of spine and pursue use of elongated spine. Demonstrate body organization (e.g., core / distal, head / tail, upper / lower half lateral) and explore cross-lateral body organization. Demonstrate holding a shape in the body while traveling through space.	The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement.
1.1.2.Pr5d	The way the body is developed, execution of movement and movement quality vary in different dance styles, genres and traditions. How is the body used as an instrument for technical and artistic expression?	Explore a variety of body positions requiring a range of strength, flexibility and core support	The student identifies and demonstrates knowledge of the body as the instrument of dance by exploring movement skills. This includes the practice of safety for self and others and regular participation in body strengthening, flexibility, and endurance activities through stationary and locomotor movement.
1.1.2.Pr5e	The way the body is developed, execution of movement and movement quality vary in different dance styles, genres and traditions. How is the body	Explore locomotor action vocabulary (e.g., gallop, hop, slide, skip) and non-locomotor action vocabulary (e.g., bending, stretching, twisting) and execute codified movements from various	The student understands and demonstrates knowledge of dance related vocabulary

1.1.2.Pr6a	Dancers use the mind-body connection and develop the body as an instrument for artistry and artistic expression. Dance performance is an interaction between performer, production elements, and audience that heightens and amplifies artistic expression. What must a dancer do to prepare the mind and body for artistic expression? How does a dancer heighten artistry in a public performance?	Explore how visualization, motor imagery and breath can enhance body mechanics and the quality of a movement skill	The student understands and demonstrates dance in relation to its historical, cultural and personal origins. This contributes to an appreciation of personal, physical, and emotional uniqueness. It also helps the student to understand the language of dance in daily life.
1.1.2.Pr6b	Dancers use the mind-body connection and develop the body as an instrument for artistry and artistic expression. Dance performance is an interaction between performer, production elements, and audience that heightens and amplifies artistic expression. What must a dancer do to prepare the mind and body for artistic expression? How does a dancer heighten artistry in a public performance?	Rehearse a simple dance using full body movement. Demonstrate the ability to recall the sequence and spatial elements	The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. These principles include solving a problem through a sequence of exploring, integrating, synthesizing, making choices, and organizing a final expression through movement
1.1.2.Pr6c	Dancers use the mind-body connection and develop the body as an instrument for artistry and artistic expression. Dance performance is an interaction between performer, production elements, and audience that heightens and amplifies artistic expression. What must a dancer do to prepare the mind and body	Dance for and with others in a designated space identifying a distinct area for audience and performers	The student demonstrates choreographic principles and processes in the art form of dance. The students will alter the phrase by manipulating the tempo, accents, directions, levels and energy qualities. Then students will practice a complex locomotor and axial sequence. The students should alter the sequence's breath and metric rhythms, spatial direction, shaping of the body and energy qualities. Use recording techniques to record and evaluate skills learned SWBAT perform an opposite dance as a class. Follow the teacher's movement cues and use your imagination. Illustrate different parts of your dance to create a class record of your movement experience. SWBAT bring an object from home that has a smell, taste, sound or texture that inspires you to move. Share your object with the class, and talk about the kind of movement that you imagine. Improvise movements with your friends using your objects as "ideas" or inspiration for movements. Perform your movements in small groups for each other. SWBAT name, learn, and perform a simple folk, or pattern dance from the United States and from one other country. Choose your favorite dance. Draw a picture of yourself performing the dance, write its name as the title, and then write a sentence to tell us why it is your favorite of the two dances. Share your drawing with a friend or family member, tell them where the dance comes from and its story. As a class, reflect on what you've "discovered" in this module about finding new movement possibilities. Then, improvise a simple two-part dance that contrasts opposites (i.e., spatial opposites, sad vs. glad). Begin your dance in a shape and end this dance in a shape. As a class, create a simple pattern dance that expresses a special classroom event or occasion, e.g., a birthday dance, a "lost tooth" dance, a beginning or ending of the week dance. Decide as a class what your dance will be about. Contribute, or share an idea in the process of creating the dance. Perform it throughout the year as a class. Share it with others and practice giving a positive critique. Teacher note: Prior to the assessment, learn at least two simple folk, or pattern dances as a class that are done for specific reasons or occasions. SWBAT show what you've discovered about combining movements. Share your three best movement ideas with a partner. Put them in a sequence. Memorize and perform the sequence in unison for the class. The teacher will give you an action word. Working with a partner, choose three other action words. Using locomotor and non-locomotor actions.
